

FIGURE: TO BE Rich Picture

Our proposed system is a post-harvest loss management system. This system is designed to track and reduce losses in agricultural supply chains, from the moment produce is harvested until it is sold at retail. The diagram outlines the roles of various stakeholders, the stages of the supply chain, and how data is collected and used to improve decision-making.